> Student Assistant L&D Consultant

You are driven and you thrive in a high-paced environment, you work just as well in teams as on your own. Your attitude is 'can-do' and your work ethics command you to be meticulous, communicative and a seeker of above average outcomes, even if you have to go that extra mile to deliver within deadline.

If you can say yes to this you may be Peaqs new Student Assistant, L&D Consultant.

Peaqs is an EdTech spin-off of Artventure founded to make a positive impact within higher education and corporate learning. As L&D Consultant your primary task is to do live video product tours with our potential clients from all over the world.

And to follow up with platform support and handle contracts and client onboarding. The main target group being within the higher education sector.

Your experience lies within:

- Sales, canvassing and product demonstrations
- Online support for software or other technical products
- Learning & Development and the educational sector

You don't have to tick off all the boxes above and if you can't tick any, we'd still like to review your application if you can argue your case for making a difference at Peaqs.

What you are studying currently is less relevant, but if it relates to any of the above points, it is an advantage.

Hours and shifts can be extremely flexible as we are serving a global audience and there's also an option to work from home at times. In return you'll get the ability to influence the success and direction of a dynamic international start-up that is expanding rapidly.

Send your application today and join a great team in a professional but informal atmosphere dedicated to changing the world of teaching and learning within higher education.
